Strange Sea Monsters.

On Sept. 11, at 10:30 a. m., the third officer of the British steamship Nestor, then in the Malacca Straits, nunounced a sheal. Capt, Webster watched the object and found | ALEXANDRIANS MOST POPULAR RESORT. that it was in motion, keeping up the same speed as the ship and retaining about the same distance as when first seen, "The shape of the creature," said the Captain (in an affidavit before the Law Secretary at Shanghai), "I would compare to that of a gigantic frog. The head, of a pale, yellowish color, was about twelve feet in length, and six feet of the crown was above the water. The head was immediately connected with the body without any indication of a neck. The body was about forty-five or fifty feet long and of an oval shape, perfectly smooth. The back rose some five feet above the surface. An immense tall, fully 150 feet in length, rose a few inches above the water. This tail I saw distinctly from its junction with the body to its extremity, and I estimate its diameter at four feet. The body and tail were marked with alternate bands or stripes, black and pale yellow in color. The stripes were distinct to the very extremity of the tail. The creature possessed no fins or paddles so far as we could perceive." In 1873 a monstrous cuttlefish was encountered by two fishermen in Conception Bay, Newfoundland. When attacked the creature threw its long arms across the fish ermen's boat, but one of the men cut off the tentacle with an axe. This tentacle was twenty-five feet in length; and as the fish-ermen considered that it was cut off fully ten feet from the body the entire length of CREAM SODA. the tentacie must have been about thirty-five feet. They estimated the body at sixty feet in length and five feet in diameter.

In 1861 the French war steamer Alector encountered a mouster cuttle at sea about got a noose around the body, but it slipped to the tail, which it pulled off. The weight of this little bit of the creature was found to be over forty pounds. It was estimated that the body was 50 feet long and the weight not less than 4,000 pounds.

The most remarkable account of a sea monster of this kind was that given by the Captain and officers of the Pauline. It was sworn to on oath by the captain, chief mate second mate, and by the steward and a sea man. "On July 8," said the captain, "we observed three large sperm whales, one of Designer in Patent Medicines, Drugs, Cigars and Marcettes Fine Tooth Brushes, Nail Brushes, Serman and Demestic Cologne, Hair Brushes, United States of Which was gripped around the body by two largest of the salary services. The head and tail appeared to have a length beyond the coils of about thirty feet, and a girth of eight or nine feet. The creature whirled the whale round and round for about fifteen minutes and then suddenly dragged it to the bottom head first. Five ing rapidly along, the head slightly raised above the water, and with a sort of mane streaming backward, while the back of a long body could be seen under the water. A creature exactly answering to this de-scription was seen by Major James Harding passing within a few yards of his cance and swimming toward a small island outside Suva Bay, known as the home of the Big Snake. Captain the Hon. George Hope, of the British ship Fly, when in the Gulf of California, the sea being unusually calm and the property are at the bettern a large manner. transparent, saw at the bottom a large ma-rine animal with the head and general figure of an alligator, but the neck much long-er, and with four large paddles instead of

My own belief is that there still exist creatures such as Capt. Hope described. Such creatures would present all the characteris-tics recognized in the so-called sea serpents. Their paddles would enable them to advance rapidly without perceptible undula tion, which the sea-serpent has been observed to do, and which no actual serpent-ine creature could do.—San Francisco Exam-
